

Fixed Price Accelerated Flight Training vs Self-Paced

When you enroll at Ocean Aviation Flight Academy, one of the first choices you will make is whether you seek Accelerated Training or Self-Paced Training.

One size does not fit all.

Accelerated Flight Training allows a student to complete the course in a preset amount of days and a pre-determined cost. It is a huge advantage for the flight student that can devote all their energy to aviation for the time necessary to complete. However, all your time must be devoted to aviation. It is the most cost efficient form of flight training and the least time to complete. But, for the period of your training, you cannot have any distractions. You will be eating, drinking and sleeping aviation.

Self-Paced Flight Training is far less stressful. It allows a student to train on their terms, on their schedule. Students can choose to train one day a week or five days a week. Or a lesson a month. The choice is yours. Most students choose a self-paced program. Self -Paced students train as they choose. The ultimate goal is still your pilot certificate.

If you choose Accelerated Training, Here at the Ocean Aviation Flight Academy, we take commitment very seriously. When we enroll an accelerated flight student, we are committing our staff, our aircraft and our resources to your success. It is a partnership between us and you. We commit to giving you the tools and the knowledge to reach your goal.

If you choose the accelerated flight program, our goal is for you to complete in the scheduled time frame. As the accelerated flight student, your commitment must be to provide your full attention. That is non-negotiable. If you intend to enroll in our accelerated program, you must make that commitment. Each day, you will be flying and studying. The accelerated program requires your full attention. You cannot have any diversions. During the course, if for any reason, you need to divide you attention or take time off for other commitments, your accelerated program will be discontinued. Accelerated Training is not meant for students who may need to divide their attention. In order for Ocean Aviation to set a fixed price for your course, we require your commitment to be ready to focus all your attention to your flight time and studies. While you are free in the evening to relax and decompress, most of your days will be spent totally immersed in your course. You will expect to “Eat, Sleep and Dream” Aviation.

Remember, The Choice Is Yours.

Many Students Choose The More Relaxed Self-Paced Program.

THE FOLLOWING INFORMATION IS FOR ACCELERATED STUDENTS

Our Accelerated Flight Training program will prepare you to pass your checkride as you meet the flight and knowledge requirements for your rating. We accomplish this by providing intense, efficient flight training provided by professional flight instructors. Your instructor will be a full time staff member. Not a contractor. Not a part time instructor.

Accelerated Flight Students should plan to enroll at least thirty days prior to their planned start date. This will allow you to complete the ground training and take the FAA required knowledge test prior to arrival. Students should also complete their FAA medical prior to arrival.

Personal Training. During your flight training period, your Flight Instructor will act as a Personal Trainer. Only at Ocean Aviation Flight Academy will you have that personal attention. Your instructor will have a maximum of two accelerated flight students during your course. You will be their primary focus.

Preparation Ocean Aviation Flight Academy will ship all material necessary to begin study. Additionally, Ocean Aviation Flight Academy will reserve staff and aircraft required to complete your flight training. We require a one thousand dollar deposit upon enrollment. This enrollment fee is non-refundable.

Weather Weather is beyond our control. Although our accelerated program is planned based upon a preset number of days, weather delays can add additional days to the course. Those days can be used for ground study. Although we work hard to meet your goal, we cannot guarantee your certificate in the pre-determined number of days.

Additional Hours For those who show the motivation and determination to achieve their certificate, but need additional hours above and beyond the planned course, Ocean Aviation Flight Academy will provide additional flight training which will be included in the price of the course.

Discontinuance On occasion, we do encounter a student that will require more time to complete the course. Ocean Aviation Flight Academy reserves the right to discontinue a student's participation in the accelerated program due to a student's lack of comprehension, comfort in the aircraft, motivation, attitude or any other behavior that impacts the learning process. Should this occur, a meeting with the student, the instructor and chief instructor or assistant chief instructor will take place. At that meeting, the student will be given the choice of continuing at the then current hourly pricing.

Time Off During The Course On all accelerated programs, there can be no days off. Should a student need to take time off or leave the academy prior to completion of the course, accelerated flight training will be considered to be discontinued. The student will have the option of continuing flight training upon return at the then current hourly rate. Any guaranteed pricing or time to complete will be considered void. This applies to any student who leaves the program prior to completion for any reason.
